Introduction

The Directory and Statistics of Oregon Libraries 1990 provides information on 216 public libraries (main libraries and branches), 64 academic libraries, and 173 special libraries in the state, as well as information on the Oregon State Library. The directory information is compiled from questionnaires sent to each library and from other directory information sources. The statistics are also compiled from questionnaires received from the libraries in the fall of 1990. All of the libraries report statistics according to their own organizational year, which in the case of all of the public libraries and most of the academic libraries, ran from July 1, 1989 to June 30, 1990.

The public library statistics are based on the Federal State Cooperative System for Public Library Data (FSCS) of the U. S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics. This new system is designed to insure comparability of data between all 50 states, and will result, this year, in a comprehensive national database of public library statistics. For the fifth year the academic library statistics were collected using a slightly modified version of the U. S. Department of Education's Integrated Post-Secondary Data System (IPEDS). The special library statistics were collected using a questionnaire adapted from IPEDS.

This year's Directory and Statistics contains several improvements over the 1989 edition. Because the National Center for Education Statistics was successful in obtaining public library statistics from all 50 states in 1989, we were able to produce a series of maps (beginning on page 42) which compares Oregon public library statistics for 1989 to those of other states. We also added a graph this year which illustrates the sources of public library income in Oregon. Finally, we continue to make improvements to the format of all of the statistical tables which will hopefully make them easier to use.

All of the statistical data that were submitted to the State Library are maintained in a computer database. The database was used to generate the statistical sections of this publication. Not all of the data are published, but only the data that we feel to be the most important and the most useful. We would welcome requests for any of the statistical data that we maintain, and are glad to generate special statistical reports to meet specific needs.

As always we would be pleased to receive any suggestions for improvements to the Directory and Statistics which would serve to make it a more useful publication.

For those of you who might be interested in the production of this document, a technical note: The State Library uses Apple Macintosh computers and Microsoft Excel software to maintain its database of library statistics. The publication itself involved the use of the Macintosh and Microsoft Excel, in addition to Microsoft Word, Cricket Graph, and SuperPaint. Copy production utilized an Apple LaserWriter Plus printer.

Comparisons of Oregon Public Library Statistics Combined by County

Presented on the next four pages are comparisons of public library statistics by county. The data on which the comparisons are based was calculated by combining a given statistic for all of the public libraries or library cooperatives or systems within one county and dividing the result by the total county population (July, 1989). The purpose of this analysis is to be able to make a broad county-by-county assessment of library resources and services in the state. For all but one of the sixteen consolidated county library systems in Oregon (Baker, Benton, Crook, Deschutes, Douglas, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Hood River, Jackson, Jefferson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Multnomah, Tillamook) the "combined" statistics are identical to their system statistics presented in Part 1.4 of this publication. The exception is Gilliam County which also has a city library in Arlington. For the remaining counties, please bear in mind the fact that the data for all of the independent libraries in the county are combined to arrive at the composite county figure. The combined county figure for these libraries may or may not reflect the services and resources of an individual library within a county. Statistics for the Chemeketa Cooperative Regional Library Service were omitted from the data due to the fact that CCRLS serves parts of four counties (Polk, Yamhill, Marion, Linn), and their statistics cannot be broken down by county. Also, in arriving at the data for the number of volumes of library materials per capita, a title count was substituted for a volume count in cases where a volume count was not available.

1989 Oregon Public Library Statistics Compared to Those of Other States

Presented on the next six pages are comparisons of Oregon's public library statistics to those of other states. The data was collected by the National Center for Education Statistics from 50 state library agencies as part of the Federal State Cooperative System for Public Library Data (FSCS). Please note that the data is for 1988-89, unlike the other data in this publication which is for 1989-90.

ERRATUM

The total population served by public libraries in Tables 1-9 should read 2,595,893, instead of 2,557,689 as printed. A graph on page 27 also contains the incorrect figure. The per capita totals in Tables 1-9 are correct.
